

One day Paddington Bear got onto a big boat and came to England from Peru.

He went on a long blue train from the boat to London. He went to Buckingham palace to visit the queen.

Paddington went to check the guards with the queen. They looked at their hats and their shiny boots.

They then had tea and marmalade sandwiches at the palace.

