

One day, Paddington got on a big boat in Peru and came to England.

He went on a tall red bus around London and saw Big Ben.

Next, he stopped at Buckingham Palace to see the Queen and he saw the guards standing outside.

Then he went inside the palace and had marmalade sandwiches and tea with the Queen.

